International Conference on HR Practices at XIME, Bangalore

Rev. Fr. E Abraham, Director, XLRI welcoming the audience

The Association of BRICS Business Schools (ABBS) in collaboration with XIME and XLRI, Jamshedpur organized a two-day international conference on "HR Practices and Trends: An International Comparison" at the XIME campus. The seminar addressed a wide range of issues and themes in Human Resources Management at the global level.

Fr. Dr. E. Abraham, Director, XLRI welcomed the dignitaries and speakers from around the globe. Prof J Philip, President, XIME, initiated the discussions by introducing the agenda. Mr. Ashok Baweja, Former Chairman, HAL, gave the inaugural address and touched upon the HR challenges faced by HAL. He threw light on the innovative steps HAL initiated to counter them. He emphasized that to make people enthusiastic at the workplace one must begin with making people feel that they were important above everything else.

The keynote address was delivered by Mr. Abhijit Bhaduri, Chief Learning Officer, Wipro. Mr. Bhaduri spoke about the role of HR in moulding the software of the mind. He said that the line between work and leisure had blurred and the notion of information being proprietary had changed.

The audience was given a glimpse of the HR trends in India, China, USA, UK, Brazil, South Africa and Malaysia. Top executives from ITC and Mahindra and Mahindra also shared the HR practices followed in their companies.

A highlight of the seminar was presentation by XIME's HR students on 'Attrition in BPO industry' Maya Sara John and Pallavi Sinha made a very professional presentation on various aspects of attrition and possible answers for the same.

Mr. Allen Sequiera, M&M, addressing the Conference

The second day was devoted to a comparative study of HR practices in Russia followed by a session by Prof. Julian Teicher and Prof. Bernadine Van Gramberg from Australia on how technology is challenging the idea of HRM.

Prof. Jittu Singh from XLRI made a presentation on the topic 'Has HR belied its promise?' wherein he suggested some action steps to focus on the developmental aspects of HR. Mr. R R Nair, former HR Director of HUL gave a brilliant presentation on HR practices in that MNC.

The conference concluded with a session on Germany by Dr. Michael Freiboth of Faurecia and Mr. Hubert Reilard of EFD Induction Group.

The event brought together leading corporates and Business Schools across geographies.

The conference underlined that in the present scenario companies needed to have a fresh perspective on HR and that people were not liabilities but assets. Everyone went home with the idea that HR is not about systems and techniques but matters of the heart.

Dr. R. Sridhar, ITC addressing the Conference

Post Budget Discussion

XIME organized a post budget discussion on 21 March 2012 to critically analyse the Union Budget 2012-13. The session was chaired by Mr. J Viswanathan, M.D, John Fowler Ltd., and a member of the board of XIME. The key speakers of the evening were Mr. Vijay Krishnamurthy, CFO, and Mr. Thiruvengadam from Deloitte Touche Tohamatsu Ltd.

They saw some kind of short-sightedness in this year's budget and in its implications across various sectors of the industry. A paper which critically analysed the budget was also presented by Mr. Apoorva Bahadur and Mr. Ankush Bahri, students from the 16th Batch of XIME. This was followed by a question and answer session which featured many lively questions by the students. Students from some of the other leading B-Schools in Bangalore also participated.

Seminar on 'FDI in Retail - to be or not to be'

Prof. J Philip, President, XIME interacting with the audience

Six management institutes from Karnataka: IBA, IFIM, KIAMS, SDMIMD, TAPMI and XIME came together to conduct a one day seminar on 'FDI in Retail – to be or not to be' on Thursday, 15th December at XIME campus, Electronics city, Bangalore.

The Seminar began with management students from different colleges featuring in a debate competition on the topic of the seminar. Well informed and energetic participants put forth different perspectives on the issues relating to foreign direct investment in the retail industry. Mr. Anil Chinnabhandar, VP, Big Bazaar, Mr. Shakti Sharma, GM-HR, Life Style International, Prof. Mohamed Minhaj, faculty SDM

Swathi Manjunath of XIME, Bangalore emerged the winner in a keenly contested debate, while Saurab Chakraborti from TAPMI, Manipal was the runner-up.

The event had a panel discussion on the topic by experts from management education and industry. The key speakers on the occasion were Prof. S L Rao, Chairman ISEC & Former DG, NCAER, Prof. Badal Mukhopadhyay, TERI University, Dr. J. Alexander, former Chief Secretary, Govt. of Karnataka, Prof. J.Philip, President, XIME and Prof Y L R Murthy, IIM, Bangalore.

Prof. Y L R Murthy presented data from both sides. He felt that much of the heat stemmed from uninformed politics rather than from economics. Prof. Murthy analyzed the record of both foreign retailers and Indian ones. The percentage of consumer rupee going to the farmer is a long way from fair return. In his interactive session, he said that making Amul-like co-operative model would be ideal. He left the audience with the question 'But how many Kuriens can we produce?'

Prof. Mukhopadhyay said people were shifting to better income levels and that had been impacting price rises. And this was where the political class had pegged its arguments. He urged people to trust data and not conform to populist views. Private truths and public lies, he said, distorted views; it was for the prudent to see through the smoke screen.

The Seminar ended with 86% of the MBA students present voting for FDI in retail and 14% against.

“An Evening with the Elders of HR” was a panel discussion organized by XIME to enable the students to benefit from the wisdom of elders in HR profession. The panel featured HR professionals with a wealth of experience from various industries. They brought into focus some of the current HR challenges and trends in a splendidly moderated discussion.

Ms. Rupande Padaki, Founder Director, The P&P Group, presented her views on diversity and psychological tests. She spoke briefly about the problems faced by the women workforce, how diversity put pressure on HR, assessment centres, competency framework and interpretation of psychological tests.

Mr. N. Balachandran, Director HR, Coffee Day, spoke on leadership development and idea generation. He referred to the significance of imagination, communication and execution.

Speaking about the importance of HR Analytics and Strategic HRM, Mr. C Mahalingam, Sr. VP & CPO, Symphony, emphasized their critical role in the current business environment.

Making people feel important, said Dr. Pallab Bandyopadhyay, VP & Head HR, Citrix Systems, was the challenge HR faced. He held that the focus should be on creating a purpose as well as appropriate roles and trust.

Mr. B. Venkataramana, Senior VP, Lifestyle Landmark Group, presented his views on HR moving from transaction to transformation.

Mr. Sailesh Menezes, Country

Manager-HR, HP, pointed out that we were in a world of severe constraints and therefore, HR needed to optimize the resources and should have the power to innovate.

President, Prof. J Philip moderated the discussions.

Alumni Day Celebrations

Alumni in a meeting with Prof. J Philip

The XIME family had its alumni at its campus on December 3, 2011. The alumni revisited memories of their time at XIME. The students got a chance to interact with the alumni over lunch.

On completion of 2 years, the present group of office bearers requested election of a new team of office bearers. Accordingly, election was held and new office bearers took over.

- Mr. Gokul Santhanam (1999), President
- Ms. Sonali Satish (2003), Vice President
- Ms. Nidhi Palta (2005), Secretary

The assembly added representation from different batches to complete the composition of the Committee.

The incoming office bearers profusely thanked the outgoing team led by Ms. Liza Jacob (1997).

This was followed by a cultural show by the students.

Speakers on Campus

Mr. Suresh Balasubramani

Mr. Suresh Balasubramani, Associate Principal, Mu Sigma spoke about the various facets of multinationals and the nuances of doing business with major MNCs. His presentation highlighted the importance of diversity in multi cultural teams. He shared his experiences of different cultures in Japan, US and Northern Europe. He touched upon the importance of following key values in business such as Integrity and focus. The speaker answered the numerous questions posed by enthusiastic students.

Mr. Udaya Bhaskar

A guest lecture on the topic "Sales Compensation" was delivered by Mr. Udaya Bhaskar, Head Compensation, United Breweries Ltd. He highlighted how compensation affected the organizational behavior and why it was important to design the right compensation plan for a business. He also spoke of the general framework design for compensation. Mr. Bhaskar presented details on different selling roles, elements of sales incentives, measurement parameters and industry practices. He concluded the session with a few challenging cases that gave the students food for thought.

Mr. Kiran Kumar and Mrs. S. Yogitha

Mr. Kiran Kumar and Mrs. S. Yogitha from Infosys Technologies Ltd. delivered a guest lecture on "The Role of a Business Analyst." Mr. Kiran Kumar started the session with some challenging puzzles and then spoke about the different roles of a Business Analyst, particularly in the Testing Services at Infosys. He also spoke about the competencies that are necessary to become a successful Business Analyst. Mrs. S. Yogitha spoke about how the role of a Business Analyst added value to the organization and also dwelt on "Business Value Articulation".

Mr. Kanwal Rekhi

XIME was delighted to have an entrepreneur, businessman and philanthropist millionaire Mr. Kanwal Rekhi share his experiences and thoughts on "Entrepreneurship" with the students and faculty. Mr Rekhi is the Managing Director of Inventus Capital Partners. He stated some hard facts about the percentage of successful entrepreneurs in the West and in Asia. He opined that entrepreneurs were restless, innovative and that they thrived in chaos. He said that they make assets productive. He said that though there were huge barriers to becoming an entrepreneur, after the initial struggle there was no looking back. For this, one needed to move out of one's comfort zone.

Mr. R Venkataraman

Mr. R. Venkataraman, former Director of XIME spoke to the students of batch 16 on business policy. A seasoned strategist, Mr. Venkataraman centered his speech around his experience with Indian Airlines. He provided nuances in strategies through anecdotes from his own life experiences.

He exhorted the students never to look down upon anyone, to take a holistic view of the problem and to always thrive towards a sustainable solution. He also reminded the gathering that though they would be entering any organization at the functional level, their upward contribution towards strategic policies would always be noticed and appreciated.

IVth BRICS Students' Meet - India

A scene in the Cultural Show by students during IV BRICS Students' Meet.

The fourth students' meet of BRICS B-Schools was organized by Association of BRICS B-schools (ABBS) from 15, February 2012 to 19 February 2012. The meet was hosted by SDM-IMD, Mysore, PSG-IM, Coimbatore, and XIME, Bangalore.

XIME Xoccer Liga

The students of XIME organized an intra-college football tournament called 'Xoccer Liga'. This is the first time XIME had organized such a tournament.

The teams were formed and players selected through an auction. The teams were split into two groups, each comprising three teams. The tournament was held over a period of two weeks and the atmosphere was electrifying.

Another unique feature of the tournament was that the matches were held during night under the newly installed flood lights.

After the resounding success of the first edition of Xoccer Liga, students and organizers of the event are planning to organize the next edition of the event more colourfully and extravagantly.

Volleyball Tournament

The Sports Club of XIME organized a Volleyball tournament at the campus. The teams were formed based on a random selection process.

The finals were played between teams representing the 16th batch and the 17th batch. Students from the 17th batch won the finals which were a one-sided match. The event marked the end of the sports activities for the current academic year.

Dean, XIME with the students of Shanti Bhavan

The Shanti Bhavan students were given a career guidance session by the students of XIME. There was a marketing event in which the students had to market their product with a brand ambassador who was in no way suited for the product. The students came up with amazing ideas, charts and the fun filled role plays to market their product. The students danced, beat boxed and displayed their talents for the audience. Prizes were awarded to the winners and mementoes were given to all the students. It was a memorable day for students of both Shanti Bhavan and XIME.

Summer Placement

XIME attracted several companies from different sectors to the campus for the summer internship programme of the Batch 17 students. Major players like Thomson Reuters, Reserve Bank of India (RBI), Tata Global Beverages, HDFC Bank, Mphasis, Helios & Matheson have offered internships to students. Two students have also secured internship at the University of Redlands, California.
