20th Foundation Day Celebrations

The Chief Guest, Mr. Firdose Vandrevala, CMD, Hirco Developers addressing

20th Foundation Day

The 20th Foundation Day of XIME was celebrated on 6 April. It was a milestone in the journey of the college which has grown from its humble beginnings to its eminent stature today. XIME was founded by a few visionary academicians and professionals in 1991, in fond memory of Maria Philip, the late daughter of Prof. J Philip, the founder of the Institute.

The XIME community usually celebrates Foundation Day on Maria's Birthday - April 9. Due to the end-term examinations, the college advanced this year's Foundation Day celebrations.

This institute stands in memory of Maria, her dreams and achievements. Maria was a very popular student and was equally good in both academics and extracurricular activities. The Maria Philip Memorial Best Speaker Competition was conceived and conceptualized as a tribute to Maria who was an exceptionally brilliant speaker.

Mr. Firdose Vandrewala

This year's Foundation Day celebrations had a distinguished chief guest, Mr. Firdose A Vandrevala. Mr. Vandrevala worked with Tata Steel for 29 years where he rose to the position of Deputy Managing Director. From 2002 to 2005 he was Managing Director of Tata Power at Mumbai. Concurrently, he was also Chairman of Tata Teleservices. On his early retirement he assumed responsibility of Chairman of Motorola in India till June 2007. He is currently the Chairman and Managing Director of Hirco Developers, Mumbai.

Maria Philip Best Speaker Competition

A panel of esteemed judges identified the best speaker of the year in the competition. The chair of the panel was Mr. D Harish, an MBA from XLRI. He has about 23 years of HR experience in senior positions. He is the current President of the National HRD Network, Bangalore Chapter and a freelance Leadership Consultant and Executive Coach.

Panel of Judges

- Mr. D Harish, President, National HRD Network, Bangalore
- Ms. Smita Saha, Senior Director of HR at Oracle
- Mr. B Venkataramana, Chief People Officer of Landmark Group India (Lifestyle International)
- Mr. Stan Lobo, VP, Sales Training and Development (India), Pepsi Co
- Ms. Padma Srinivas, an alumna of XIME and a Training Consultant

There were six students participating from PGDM and Executive PGDM, with a student representing each class. They were allotted 4 minutes each to speak on the topic 'India should support the current uprisings/revolts in the Middle East including that in Libya!'

It was a spellbinding 30-minute competition which was closely contested. The Chair of the panel admitted that the panel of judges was left in a predicament to choose only one from these brilliant contestants. The Chairman, Mr. D. Harish spoke to the audience about the success formula for life which served as a guideline for the judges in judging the best speaker – content, conviction, consistency and character. Ms. Anuradha Mukherji of second year PGDM bagged the Maria Philip Best Speaker award this year.

Prof. J. Philip, President, XIME, spoke on the occasion and recalled the achievements that the college has made so far. He mentioned about the unique features of the college including purely merit based admission, near-equal men-women ratio, strong international ties. He exhorted the students to continue the winning streak by mentioning that winning must be a habit in XIME. He concluded his speech by saying, "The only way forward from here is to go up in reputation among the B-Schools fraternity in the country."

The Panel of Judges listening to the contestants

Address by Mr. Vandrevala

The audience, still relishing the thought-provoking speeches of students, were in for another captivating speech by the Chief Guest, Mr. Vandrevala, who enthralled the audience for twenty minutes. His speech had ten messages, each backed up by an anecdote or an experience. These, according to him, are vital to lead a successful and happy life. The 10 issues mentioned by him were: adaptability to change, value of one's network, resilience, integrated view of problems, living many lives (one dies only once), staying happy, knowing oneself, knowing the experts, pursuing one's goal, and never quitting. The speech received resounding applause.

It was indeed a befitting 20th Foundation Day celebrations of a college of XIME's repute.

HR/IR Best Practices in Public Sector

Shri Mallikarjun M Kharge, Union Minister for Labour and Employment delivering the inaugural address at XIME

Seminar on HR/IR Practices in PSUs

The performance of public sector in the recent period of the economic disturbances has been highly commendable. The HR/IR of public sector has played an important role in this achievement and has projected an image of proactivism, efficiency and competence, and able workforce management.

Partners

XIME hosted this National Seminar on HR/IR practices in Public Sector on 11th and 12th January 2011. The conference was hosted to bring together top HR/

IR professionals from leading PSUs, for sharing innovative practices followed by some of the PSUs, for the larger benefit of Indian industry. Special emphasis was laid on innovation. The co-sponsors of the event were Bharat Petroleum, HAL, SAIL, SCOPE and XIME. There were over 100 delegates in the 2-day seminar including the eminent speakers and session chairmen.

Inaugural Session

Mr. K C Mohan, Chairman XIME and former Chairman MECON addressing

The welcome address was given by Prof. J. Philip, President, XIME. He described PSUs as “treasure trove” of good HR practices. The Chief Guest of the day was Shri Mallikarjun Kharge, Union Minister for labour and employment. Shri Kharge called upon public sector undertakings to ensure that the contract labour employed in their establishments are provided with better wages and social security. He acknowledged that contract labourers employed in the public sector were comparatively better off than their counterparts in the private sector. He also noted that the public sector had strong Human Resources(HR) practices in employment security, growth opportunities, working environment and talent retention, besides providing technical and managerial training to its staff. He said the performance of public sector companies was being viewed closely by the country’s leadership. The conference witnessed many eminent personalities joining for

BRICS Students Meet in China

Delegates at the BRICS B-Schools Meet

The 3rd Students' Meet as part of the Association of BRICS Business Schools (ABBS) was held at Guangdong University, Guangzhou, China in March this year. The meet had some special significance. Firstly, it saw the successful completion of the two years of leadership of its founding President Prof. J. Philip. He handed over the Presidentship to his successor Prof. Xu Erming of Renmin University, Beijing. Secondly, it is the first time that the Students' Meet is being held outside of India. Both the previous meets were organized at XIME.

The conference opened with the Presidential address by Prof. J. Philip who spoke on the relevance of the BRICS B-Schools Association and also highlighted the rationale and the need for cooperation among the countries.

The conference followed with a forum discussion on the 'Responsibility of Young Managers under Globalization'. The forum threw interesting insights into cultural inclusiveness. The speeches were centred on 'How the BRICS nations can grow' and 'The need to cherish & uphold distinct cultures among the BRICS nations. Prof. C P Ravindranathan of XIME was one of the key speakers.

The meet was attended by eleven colleges, (four from India) representing the 5 member nations. XIME had sent a five member delegation for the Students' Meet. The conference was followed by a case study competition for the students. The case study competition saw 10 cases being presented. The team from Shantou University captured the top honours. A cultural show was held later in the evening.

The 3rd ABBS Students' Meet provided students with a platform to interact, acclimatize and learn from the diverse cultures of the BRIC nations. For everyone involved with the meet, it was a highly gratifying experience with close ties being formed and growing mutual understanding between the students and universities alike.

The 3rd ABBS Students' Meet would also be remembered for the hospitality of the faculty, staff and students of Guangdong University of Foreign Studies (GDUFS) and the grandeur with which the event was conducted.

The meet concluded with an invitation to the next BRICS Students' Meet to be held in Mysore and Coimbatore in India.

Speakers on Campus

Mr. Keshav Prasad

Mr. Keshav Prasad

Mr. Keshav Prasad was one of the Guest Speakers in the 'Distinguished Speaker' series. He spoke on 'Customer Satisfaction and Business Strategy' on 28 February 2011.

Based in Metro Washington Area, Mr. Prasad runs a software startup and is also an executive in residence at The School of Business, George Washington University. He is a consultant to National Geographic Imaging and a couple of technology companies.

Having been part of the Oberoi group, he shared his experience in the hotel industry. He quoted Peter Drucker, "The main purpose of business is to create a satisfied customer." He also discussed the performance model in the service industry and uniqueness in product and service delivery. He analysed the importance of corporate strategy in helping the bottom line and in influencing frequent purchase decisions.

Mr. Prasad made the session lively by sharing his own decades-long personal experiences in the industry and re-emphasized the importance of customer orientation for any company.

Ms. Sneha Varma

Ms. Sneha Varma is another guest speaker in this term. She interacted with students on 18 February. She is the executive producer at Nirvana ad films. The Nirvana team, that has carved for itself a niche in ad film making has to its credit extremely illustrious ad campaigns like the zoo zoos, Incredible India and Kerala tourism to name a few.

Ms. Sneha Varma

Ms. Sneha Varma spoke of the impact of advertisements on the buyers – both present and prospective. She threw light on how ubiquitous advertisements have become and the challenges marketers face to get to the top.

Conceptualizing of ads to shooting them and to their ultimate impact – the speaker discussed it all with a great enthusiasm. The audience discussed on whether advertisements are more of vice than virtue. Through the debate the students analyzed the advertising policies of various giants like HUL and Bajaj.

Ms. Verma called for future marketers to think beyond mediocrity. She urged the students to be creative, extend horizons and most importantly cater to the 'heart of audience along with the head'.

Prof. M J Xavier

Prof. M.J Xavier

Prof. M.J Xavier, Director, IIM, Ranchi visited XIME as a Guest Speaker on January 21, 2011. He spoke about the current management teachings and the need for a return to Indian management values. In the volatile environment in which we live in now, there is a need to adequately tailor management practices to suit the changing business needs. Prof. Xavier gave the students a truly eye-opening speech on the need to explore outside the limits of the current management curriculum.

Prof. R Venkataraman

Prof. R. Venkataraman

On April 1, Prof. R Venkataraman former Director, XIME gave insights about the corporate world to students of batch 15. He explained the various challenges that the students will face when they step into the real world. Through his inspirational videos and anecdotes, he made the students become aware of the differences they can make to the business world as it is today.

Speakers on Campus

Prof. J.P Jeyapandyan

Prof. J P Jeyapandian delivered a series of lectures on 'Capital Marketing' for final year students with finance specialization. These lectures were delivered during 6-8 January 2011. His talks had many recent examples which helped the students learn the concepts better.

Mr. Joseph John

Mr. Joseph John

Mr. Joseph John has been heading international marketing of cement equipments with an associate of Dalmia cements in his latest posting. Having worked for a considerable part of his life in Bharat Petroleum and RIL, Mr. John encouraged students not to shy away from the public sector. He had worked for more than three decades in the sector and assured students of ample opportunities for growth. He also encouraged students to steer away from convention and go in for Entrepreneurship which was the way ahead. Mr. Joseph John also has close ties to the institute and is on XIME's Board of Directors.

Mr. Ronald D'Costa

Mr. Ronald D'Costa, the CEO of Boulevard Hotel, Jamshedpur conducted a workshop on 'social

International Tours

XIME is breaking new grounds this year in its training and development programme. All its first year students have to go on a 12-day international industrial cum educational tour to various parts of the globe.

3 Tour Groups this year

1. Hong Kong, Shanghai, and Beijing
2. Singapore, Malaysia, and Thailand
3. UK, France, Switzerland and Italy.

This initiative, which aims at providing global exposure to its students, is a part of the continuous improvement efforts at XIME. This internationalization will continue to be a feature of XIME's PGDM education.

It is worth mentioning that XIME was one of the first management schools in the country to introduce study of a foreign language (French, German or Spanish) as one of the requirements of its programme. XIME has also excellent international network, particularly with BRICS countries.

Industrial Visits

The students of batch 16 had some very useful industrial visits in this term.

1. TVS Motor Company at Hosur
2. Prestige TTK plant at Bangalore
3. TaeguTech at Bangalore

These visits helped students understand management practices and relate these to their class inputs. XIME organizes such industrial visits at regular intervals.

Admissions 2011

Admissions to the 180 seats for Batch 17 of PGDM are complete. There were more applicants this year than the previous years. GD/PI were held at Kochi, Chennai, Hyderabad and Bangalore. The selected candidates will join the programme on June 20, 2011.

15-month Executive PGDM

Admissions process for 15-month Executive PGDM is on.

The last date for receipt of application is May 15, 2011.

Course will begin on July 1, 2011. For details please visit www.xime.org

Visiting Faculty

Prof. Bernard Arogyaswamy of Le Moynes University, Syracuse, USA addressed the students of both 15 and 16 batch in January.

An expert in cultural studies, Prof. Arogyaswamy engaged the students in a witty interactive lecture on 'China and India: A Comparison on Innovation'. The students thoroughly enjoyed his unorthodox methods and learnt a lot about interacting with different cultures across the globe.

Prof. Arogyaswamy had earlier spent a term at XIME teaching 'Business Strategy'.

Students' Clubs Activities

Finitiative

Finitiative, the finance club of XIME, organised 'Battle of Wits' was to mark the culmination of the activities of "Finitiative" for this year. The event stretched over three days with exciting rounds each day. The winners of this competition will go on to be a part of the core committee of the Finance Club in the next academic year.

HRhythm

HRhythm, the Human Resources Club of XIME, screened a leadership video as a part of the grand finale of the club activities this year. A large number of students turned up to watch the screening of the video. The club organized record number of events during the year.

EnXime

The Entrepreneurship Club of XIME, EnXIME, organized an Entrepreneurship event with the support of the NEN (National Entrepreneurship Network). The activities of the club are indicators of XIME's encouragement for the development of entrepreneurship initiatives of the students.

The club conducted various events including a B-Plan competition, a debate competition on 'Entrepreneurship in India' and a lecture on 'Failure of Entrepreneurship' by Prof. Rajendra Desai and Mr. R. S. Satyanarayanan. The Club is committed to take entrepreneurship to great levels in the region.

Meeting with Eduniversal

Mr. Martial Guitte Founder & CEO, Eduniversal and his team discussing with Prof. J Philip

Mr. Martial Guitte, CEO and Founder, Eduniversal visited XIME during 27-28 January to take part in the Seminar on Indo - European Partnership. He was accompanied by Ms. Cecile Escape Perochain, Ms. Lyubov Semenکو Ganguly and Dr. Aneeta Madhok.

They had gone around the facilities at XIME. They also had a long meeting with Prof. J Philip, President, XIME when they discussed about Management Education in India and the key challenges. They also apprised XIME management on their Universal ranking system of B-Schools.

Entrepreneurship Development Programme

XIME's 11th EDP is now in progress with 13 participants. This 4-week programme is meant for :

- Persons who want to start or grow their own business or utilize the entrepreneurship learning within an organization as intrapreneurs.
- Persons wanting to create self-sustaining social service ventures.

The following major areas are covered:

- Entrepreneurial Capability
- Achievement Orientation
- Business Plan Preparation
- Soft Skills for Entrepreneurs
- Management Inputs for Entrepreneurs

The programme is handled by XIME's senior faculty and a number of experts from outside. It is worth mentioning that XIME had earlier received substantial funding from HP (India) for offering a series of EDPs for the benefit of aspiring entrepreneurs from marginalised sections of our society. XIME had also conducted an EDP with financial assistance from the Department of Science and Technology.

Incubation Centre

Entrepreneurship Development and Small Business Effectiveness is an area of considerable interest to XIME (as its name implies).

As part of this commitment XIME will soon develop an Incubation Centre at its campus.

Post Budget Discussion

The Post Budget Discussion in Progress at XIME

Dr. Stephen Mathews, Director, XIME, welcomed the gathering to the Post Budget Discussion on 4 March and spoke on the challenge of the inspirational India and response of people in India with relevance to the current budget presented by Shri Pranab Mukherjee Union Finance Minister.

The Chairman of the session was Mr. S. Viswanathan, M.D., John Flower (India) Pvt. Ltd., & Member of BOG, XIME. Accustomed to giving comments to the media within hours, which is premature, he was of the opinion that in order to present a detailed comment on the budget much time is required and felt that XIME had the right timing in organising the budget meet.

Mr. Viswanathan reflected on the inflationary trends in the price of food grains and increase in oil and commodity prices. Also inflation was compared to a regressive form of taxation. Increase in the interest rates as well as the sluggishness in the manufacturing sector was considered. According to his analysis the present budget envisages deficit in fiscal budget and also anticipates higher revenue riding on the growth of an economy. The right to food security and tinkering with tax laws were also stressed. He ended his talk on a lighter note by stating that “the art of taxation is similar to the plucking of feathers” by creating minimal chaos.

Mr. Pasupathy Kumar, CFO, Deloitte, Haskin & Sells was one of the panellists who focused on many topics presented in the budget. He also touched upon health as it is a matter of grave concern. He related a story in which a student who does not do well is advised to take over the activities of a dairy farm by his father. In fact India is facing a grave shortage of agriculture and related activities, however there are no takers for entrepreneurship in this sector.

Mr. Kumar credited the 1991 New Economic Policy to having flourished his career. He also contemplated on the power of the government to holding the economy to ransom through controls on banking sector, retail sector and related areas. He also presented an interesting correlation between the investments by the government and PSUs and moving away from being major stakeholders. The rushed growth of the SEZs in India was brought out. From a business perspective his biggest take away was litigation and compliance issues which undergo substantial change at most revision of financial policies.
